Scopes & Standards of Practice Update

IACRN's Scopes & Standards of Practice for Clinical Research Nursing was open for public comment through November 30th. The Scopes & Standards committee, led by Shaunagh Browning, Mary Jane Williams, and Meg McCabe, is currently reviewing each individual comment and making edits to the document. Once this has been accomplished, it will be submitted to the American Nurses Association (ANA).

Congratulations to our new Board members!

Conference
2015 was a hit!

A great time was had at our 2015 IACRN 7th Annual Conference at Baltimore, Maryland, USA in October. Keynote speaker Kayte Spector-Bagdady's keynote talk, "Why We've Always Needed Ethics: Grants, Research, and the Law" was evaluated as one of the attendees' favorite sessions. The breakout sessions, symposia, and pre-conference workshops were varied and kept everyone interested and entertained. We are looking forward to the exciting and new presentations for next year's conference!

Our 2016 IACRN 8th Annual Conference is scheduled for October 24 - 26, 2016 in Lake Buena Vista, Florida (just outside of Orlando)!

You won't want to miss out!

All CNE certificates for completed survey evaluations have been distributed. If you did not receive yours, please contact hlabovitz@iacrn.org so we can verify receipt of your electronic evaluation and prepare your certificate.

New United Kingdom pilot branch!

A dedicated group of Clinical Research Nurses from the United Kingdom met via teleconference recently and discussed the formation of our newest IACRN pilot chapter ("branch" in the UK!). Jennifer Allison and Gordon Hill were proposed and seconded as co-chairs of this budding pilot chapter. Congratulations UK!

Welcome to our newest members!
