

Free Webinar:

Clinical Research Nurse as Leader

Thursday, September 19, 2019
1:00 – 2:00 PM ET

As Clinical Research Nurses (CRNs) we have the knowledge and skills to balance the fidelity to the research protocol and participant care. This insight positions the CRN to be a leader, both formally and informally, in the institutions in which they work and the professional organizations to which they belong. During this webinar we will discuss the standard of practice for leadership and how that is applied in everyday CRN practice, we will look at formal and informal leadership roles CRNs hold and discuss how CRNs can get involved and be leaders in professional organizations. While this webinar will focus on the role of the CRN, other research professionals will find the information presented useful and may be able to apply some of the principles to their role.
