President's Message

Dear IACRN members,

Happy New Year! I'm enthused and honored to embark on my year as President for IACRN. As the year unfolds, I hope to get to know more of you and share thoughts about our common passion: research nursing. I've been so impressed with the talent and insight held by our membership at every annual meeting demonstrated via posters and presentations and through each sidebar conversation I have. You all inspire me to do everything possible to advance IACRN's mission and serve its membership. We are a young organization yet have the potential to become a major voice for nursing within the global research arena. Through member engagement and utilizing your knowledge and creativity we can do this together!

I am so looking forward to hearing from you and meeting more of you as the year unfolds. I am grateful to all of you who have joined committees, volunteered for special projects, contributed to some of our major past and ongoing initiatives and for supporting IACRN. For those of you who are new to IACRN, I encourage you to get involved in a committee or a local chapter. You are all such good ambassadors spreading the word about IACRN in your communities of practice. All of this helps to make us a stronger and better organization so keep up the good work!

Here's to all of you and IACRN in 2019!

With gratitude,

Mary Larkin, MS, RN
President IACRN

...from The Education Committee:
Why a Nurse should have a Curriculum Vitae

Nursing practices may differ among job titles in different practice settings. One job title may not always accurately reflect the role and responsibilities. The CV allows...Read more here...
